CRAFT WITNESS IS FOUGHT OVER

DOESN'T KNOW WHETHER TO APPEAR BEFORE HOUSE OR SENATE COMMITTEE.

LETTERS IN EVIDENCE

HUGE FILE OF DOCUMENTS AL-MOST UNTOUCHED.

HELPED SETTLE COAL STRIKE

Both Senate and House Battle to See
Which Will Get Star Graft Witness—Other Men on Stand.

New York, July 11.—Investigation of the federal grand jury into the activity of David Lamar in the so-called Union Pacific conspiracy was adjourned tonight until Monday, after which four more witnesses had been examined under the United States statute which provides punishment for impersonating an officer or employee of the government.

J. Sargent Gram, a member of the public service commission; Geo. F. Barker of the First National Bank, Margaret W. Kelly and Charles T. Eton, were the witnesses examined today. Lewis Case Laidard and Paul D. Cravath, both of whom testified before the Senate lobby investigating committee, are expected to be called Monday.

Washington, July 11.—Martin M. Mulhall, who claims to have been the active lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers for many years, began his testimony before the Senate lobby investigating committee. Mulhall, who alleged correspondence has brought into the limelight names of scores of men prominent in political life in the last ten years, was on the stand about two hours.

The committee made only a faint impression on the huge pile of letters, but enough was read into the record to show Mulhall's alleged relations with the manufacturers. Mulhall, former secretary of the Manufacturers' Association, began in 1902, and that Mulhall was first employed to work against an eight-hour day favored by the late Senator McClellan of Maryland. Mulhall admitted that he had worked to defeat the McClellan forces in Maryland while he was still posing as a Maryland friend. He said he received checks from Cushing for small amounts which were to be used in paying the expenses of a labor organization in Baltimore which was opposed to McClellan.

Helped Settle Strike.
Mulhall told also of the efforts to help settle the anthracite coal strike in the Pennsylvania coal fields in 1902, and spoke of attempts to arrange conferences between the then Governor and labor leaders. Just after the committee adjourned, a sergeant at arms of the house appeared and served a subpoena on Mulhall directing him to appear before the special lobby committee of the house at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The Senate committee had adjourned until 10 o'clock. When Senator Overman heard of the action of the house there was a hurried conference and Mulhall was told to show up before the Senate committee at 9.

"They're making themselves ridiculous," said Chairman Overman, referring to the activities of the new house committee.

The effort to get Mulhall to the house side was the final move of the day by Chairman Garrett and his associates who wanted to put him on the stand either before the Senate committee, or at odd moments when the senators were not listening to his testimony.

Before the matter is settled, the question of jurisdiction may take a more serious turn, although the senators who have "the papers" and have Mulhall under subpoena feel they can keep him as long as they want.

Mulhall Smiles.
Mulhall took the stand tonight and subscribed to the oath with a smile on his face.

Mulhall said he was born in 1850 and had lived in Baltimore more than twelve years. He said before he went with the National Association of Manufacturers he was principally in politics and was connected with the Republican national committee.

"I refused a bribe of $5,000 and a life position in the naval service in 1892," said Mulhall. "That year I had charge of the Republican campaign in Albany and Rensselaer counties, New York. Previous to that I had charge of William McKinley's gubernatorial campaign in Ohio."

Relations With Labor.
Senator Reed asked him about his relations with labor. He said the late Senator Quay of Pennsylvania sent him to confer with John Mitchell during the anthracite strike in the Pennsylvania fields in 1902, "to get the inside story." During that time, Mulhall said he arranged for a conference between Governor Stone of Pennsylvania and three labor leaders. A letter of March 18, 1902, from Mulhall to Mitchell, declared the leaders of the Republican organization would do more for the miners' union.

PITTSBURG BANK CLOSES.

JAMES S. KUHN

The First-Second National Bank of Pittsburgh, one of the city's oldest banking institutions, closed its doors by direction of the Acting Controller of the Currency. The amount involved is said to be between $24,000,000 and $40,000,000.

Mr. J. S. Kuhn is the president of the bank. A report is current that a receiver for the American Water Works and Guarantee Company, of which the Kuhn interests are the controlling factors, will be asked.

ROADS FIGHTING RATE REDUCTION

PRESENT CASE AT GALVESTON.
SHOWING HOW THEY WOULD LOSE BY LOWER TARIFFS.

HEARINGS LAST NEXT WEEK TOO

Expected That Railroad Commission
Will Hear Galveston-Houston
Differential Arguments.

Galveston, July 11.—Today's hearing of the Texas railroad commission in the matter of readjusting of cotton rates looking to abolition of the so-called Galveston-Houston differential saw the beginning of a fight on the part of the railroads against a reduction of the present cotton tariff. Many employees of different departments of Texas roads were placed on the stand to show that a reduction of the tariff meant a reduction of the earnings and consequently a loss of employment.

Toward the close of the hearing this afternoon the first expert testimony was offered by the railroads, showing the earning capacity of the lines for the past twenty-five years and presenting scientific calculations as to what would be the results if cotton rates were lowered.

Officials of Texas carriers stated emphatically that they were opposed to any change in the present tariff and that at the proper time they would submit a proposed tariff to take the place of the one now effective. Should this schedule not be made on a mileage basis and conform pretty closely to those already submitted the fight may be prolonged indefinitely.

Those leading either side expressed the opinion this afternoon that the hearing would last well into the coming week. Much interest centers around the tariff to be offered by the carriers, which is now being worked out by committees.

TEMPLE FIRE.

Temple, July 12.—C. M. Cox & Co.'s wholesale grocery establishment at 220 South Main street was totally destroyed by fire that broke out shortly after 1 o'clock this morning.

Fanned by a stiff south wind, the flames spread with great rapidity, and for a time threatened the railroad Y. M. C. A. just across the street.

The loss will probably be from $20,000 to $25,000.

PRESIDENT EXPLORING WILL RATIFY STRIKE

GOES OVER MOUNTAIN RIDGE IN BIG AUTOMOBILE—THE TRIP
WITHOUT MISHAP.

Gives Right of Way on Oiled Highway to Farmer's Team by Going Into Farmyard.

Cornish, July 11.—President Wilson went exploring in his automobile today. He took an unfrequented road and his big car picked its way slowly over the mountains.

The trip was made without mishap and the view of the surrounding hills and the view of the mountains from unusual vantage points.

On one occasion the president's machine came to a natural stop and moved off the road entirely into a front yard. Half of the road had just been covered with oil and the other half was blocked by a team. In order to avoid getting out of the machine, the president suggested that his car drive over a farm house until the team had passed. It was this incident which led to the report that the president had plunged over an embankment, narrowly escaping injury.

FIGHT FIRST ON FARM SCHEDULE

REPUBLICAN ONSLAUGHT COMES MONDAY ON AGRICULTURAL CLAUSE OF TARIFF BILL.

FIVE WEEKS DEBATE

MINORITY MEMBERS PLAN NUM-BER OF REPORTS.

SIMMONS WILL SPEAK FIRST

Several Amendments Are Announced.
Zinc Bearing Ore to Bear Duties.
Cotton Futures Section to Pass.

Washington, July 11.—Discussions of the Underwood-Simmons tariff revision bill with its lengthy free list, greatly reduced rates on all commodities and its new system of ad valorem, instead of specific rates, actually will begin in the Senate next Wednesday noon.

On Monday, however, the opening assault upon the democratic measure will be made by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, who will speak on the agricultural schedule.

The finance committee agreed that the bill should be given the floor ahead of the formal opening because he is obliged to leave Washington Monday night.

Chairman Simmons, speaking for the democrats at the finance committee meeting, said he thought debate on the bill could be concluded in five weeks. Senator Smoot of the minority, agreed with Mr. Simmons, declaring the republicans had no intention of purposely prolonging the discussion.

There probably will be two by Senators Penrose, Smoot, Lodge, McCumber, Gallinger and Clark, and a separate report by Senator LaFollette, who will have amendments that will constitute practically a new measure. Senator Smoot has in preparation a new wool schedule.

Simmons to File Report.
Senator Simmons will file the majority report and make the opening argument for the democrats and administration. During consideration of the measure, Senator Simmons will have general charge of the debate for the republicans.

Senator Simmons, however, will parcel out the bill to the various members of the finance committee majority, following the plan adopted by Mr. Underwood in the house.

As reported to the Senate the bill contained comparatively few changes from the bill which was reported three weeks ago to the democratic caucus by the finance committee majority.

Among these were a few changes in rates and the free listing of antimony ore, blankets costing less than 40 cents a pound, cast iron pipes of every description, raw furs, gunpowder and a few other commodities, swelling the long list of articles free listed by the bill in the house.

One amendment, not heretofore announced, makes all zinc bearing ore dutiable at 12 1/2 per cent, an increase from 10 per cent over the house bill.

Many Amendments Suggested.
The amendment provided that on all importations of zinc bearing ore the duties shall be estimated at the port of entry and a bond given in double the amount of the estimated duty for transporting the ores to sampling or smelting establishments, where they shall be assayed by agents of the government and import duties liquidated by customs officers.

Another amendment, made necessary because of changing the date from January 1, 1913, to March, 1913, from which incomes shall be computed for the income tax for the first year, provides that the excise corporation tax of 1 per cent shall be collected for January and February, 1913. The income tax could not be assessed for these months because such tax did not

WIRE A BIG REPORT

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COM-MITTEE APPROVES MEASURE.

CLASH COMES NEXT WEEK

Expected That Battle Royal Will Be Waged on Floor of House When Proposed Law Comes Up.

Washington, July 11.—The administration plan for a government controlled federal reserve board to administer the entire banking system, provided for in the Glass currency bill, was endorsed today practically without amendment by the democratic members of the house banking and currency committee. After some discussion they agreed on the proposed salary of $10,000 a year for each member of the board.

The bill was amended, however, to provide that the four members of the board to be appointed by the president should be distributed geographically throughout the country and to require that they should devote all of their time to their duties on the board.

Well satisfied with their work in conference during the last two days on the bill, the democrats of the committee adjourned until Monday.

The conference considered the terms on which state banks may become members of the regional reserve banks and the division of the earnings. The provisions limiting shareholders to an annual cumulative dividend of 5 per cent was approved.

It was agreed that all of the net earnings of the reserve banks above the 5 per cent cumulative dividends to the stockholders should be paid to the United States government, the 20 per cent surplus of each bank remaining the property of the government, so as to put the stockholding banks at all times on an equal basis.

Wire 4000-Word Report.
The currency and banking committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which has been in special session here for several days, tonight telegraphed a 4000-word report on the administration currency bill to San Francisco for the meeting there next Monday of the chamber's board of directors. The committee approved the essential phases of the bill, but to "improve and strengthen it," recommended that the federal reserve board, which would control the system of reserve banks provided for in the bill, be increased from seven to nine, the original seven choosing the additional members; that the board governor and that the directors of the federal reserve banks be empowered to elect a federal advisory council to

Dr. I. Block's forecast for today holds out possibilities of rain within the next forty-eight hours. Atmospheric conditions are unsettled and the "low" is apparently moving in this direction. It will be cooler today.

While the mercury was not on the retired list yesterday, heat was not so oppressive as that of the day before, the highest degree registered being 93°.

Local Temperatures.
Local temperatures, furnished by Dr. I. Block, voluntary weather observer, for the twenty-four hours ending yesterday at 7 p. m.: Maximum, 93°; minimum, 75°; barometer, 29.80; humidity, 68.

Atmospheric conditions are unsettled and there is likelihood of rain within the next twenty-four hours.

Washington, July 11.—Forecast: East Texas—Fair Saturday; probably followed by local thunder showers Saturday night or Sunday; not quite so warm interior Sunday; moderate to brisk south winds.

West Texas—Fair Saturday; cooler in Panhandle; not quite so warm south and central portions; Sunday, fair.

Rebel Assault—Mexico Stirred.

Washington, July 11.—The attention of the state department was called to the imprisonment of the Americans and the seizure of their property by Consul Garret at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. When Consul Garret demanded the release of his countrymen the revolutionists told him they must await orders from Piedras Negras.

So great is the lawlessness around Tampico that the better class of Mexicans have joined Americans in organizing vigilantes under commission of the military governor of San Luis Potosi. Already fourteen bandits have been hanged. It is expected that a military governor will take charge of the state of Tamaulipas as has been done in Vera Cruz and San Luis Potosi during the past few days.

The consul at Mazatlan has reported to the state department that many destitute Americans are arriving at that port and that he has already sent twenty-four refugees to San Francisco.

Washington in Dark.
Washington, July 11.—No word has come to the state department from the Huerta government concerning the charges that United States consuls in Mexico and the army and navy along the border and coasts have been aiding the revolutionists.

Officials here look upon the charges, credited to the Mexican government by feeling in Mexico City over the refusal of the United States to recognize the Huerta regime and are not inclined to take them seriously. Any suggestion that the army or navy has given assistance to each side in the Mexican disturbances is regarded as absurd and it was pointed out that all American consuls and consular offices in Mexico are under specific instructions to refrain from taking sides in the conflicts in their respective jurisdictions.

Recruits for Ojeda.
Juarez, July 11.—Official dispatches received today from Mexico City say that Col. Gonzales Garza has disembarked at Guaymas, Sonora, with reinforcements for Gen. Pedro Ojeda, who has been holding the port for two weeks against rebel assaults.

Industrial Workers Cleared.
Oregon City, July 11.—Fourteen organizers of the Industrial Workers of the World, held here on a charge of rioting in connection with their activity in bringing about a strike of local paper mill employees, were acquitted by a jury tonight.

New Life Company.
Austin, July 11.—A license was granted the International Life Insurance company of St. Louis by the department of insurance and banking today.

Bacon Knocked Off Pins By Owen Bill

Washington, July 11.—An attempt was made by Senator Owen to have the Senate pass his bill for the creation of a bureau of legislative experts to draft bills upon the request of the president, committee of congress, eight senators or twenty-five representatives.

"I am so astonished at this suggestion of having a school master to do what senators are supposed to be able to perform that I am completely knocked off my pins," declared Senator Bacon.

"Did the senator say 'pins'?" asked Senator Lewis.

The Georgia senator responded he was so shocked he probably had used improper words.

Senator Owen withdrew the bill from further consideration.

Lattimore Talks to Normale; School Is Educational Factor

Prof. J. C. Lattimore of the city schools yesterday addressed the teachers and students of the Waco colored high school at the A. D. Moore school. His subject was "Some of Our Mistakes as Teachers." He was followed with interest.

A short program was also rendered. It was as follows:
Vocal Solo—Miss Naina Cobb.
Violin Solo—W. L. Simmons.
Two songs were sung by the student body.

The normal, which has been in progress three weeks, has an enrollment now of sixty-six students. Seventy per cent of these are women. Excellent progress is being made. The course will close July 28.

Next week, County Superintendent of Public Instruction R. L. Abbott will make an address to the student body.

GENERAL RIVA SHOT.

GENERAL ERNESTO RIVA

General Riva, Chief of Police of Cuba, who figured prominently in Cuba's struggle for freedom, was assassinated by Colonel Asbert, Governor of the district of Havana, while General Riva was arresting a man for violating the law. General Riva fell with a bullet in his head and another in his abdomen. Some fears are entertained in Havana that friends of General Riva will attempt to wreak vengeance on Governor Asbert, for whose arrest a warrant was issued.

PRESIDENT WILL MEET TRAINMEN

REPRESENTATIVES OF ROADS AND EMPLOYEES WILL BOTH MEET WILSON.

ACT SATISFIES NEITHER SIDE

Erdman Law Must Be Changed to Meet General Approval—Department of Labor Figures.

Washington, July 11.—The meeting at the white house scheduled for Monday between President Wilson, railway officials and representatives of the employees, will take place as planned, according to an announcement today by Secretary Wilson of the department of labor.

"Both the representatives of railway managers and the unions will be present at the conference," the secretary said. "They have notified me that they will be present and I cannot understand all the talk at New York about nothing being known there about the meeting. Apparently the railway and union officials have a reason of their own for denying knowledge of the meeting, but what it is, I have not been told."

I prefer not to say at this time who asked for the conference with the president. I can say, however, that the request was not made on the initiative of this department."

The object of the conference, Secretary Wilson explained, was not altogether to aid in preventing the threatened strike of trainmen on eastern railroads, but was to discuss and arrange a compact, the railways and the employees unions can meet in the settlement of future wage troubles.

Neither is Satisfied.
Neither the railways nor the unions have been satisfied with the provisions of the Erdman arbitration act, because of the small arbitration board it provides. They desire a board of six members, while Secretary Wilson is in favor of a board of nine. This point, however, he is willing to waive.

The only vital difference and the one which will form the main topic of discussion at the white house conference is whether the proposed new board shall be an independent commission or part of the department of labor. The railway managers and the unions desire the former, while Secretary Wilson insists that the board belongs in his department.

On account of the white house conference the House will postpone consideration of the proposed amendments to the Erdman act, which were to have been taken up tomorrow. Indications are, however, that at the first session after the conference the Senate bill to provide for an arbitration board of six members will be passed.

The House judiciary committee, for want of a quorum, passed over the amendments until next Tuesday when it will hear the railroad boilermakers and other shopmen's organizations. A delegation of shopmen asked Chairman Clayton today to include them within the scope of the proposed amended Erdman law.

Will Be Represented.

New York, July 11.—It was announced tonight on behalf of the training and conductors, who are threatening a strike against the eastern railroads, that they will be represented at the meeting Monday.

Wilson and the officials of the department of labor at the white house. The meeting was called to consider the Newlands bill to provide an amendment.

Athens, July 11.—General Ivanoff's army, together with three divisions of the Istip forces, aggregating 112 battalions, made its last stand in a strongly entrenched position near Dermihassan, on the left bank of the river Struma, and on the adjacent heights of Intrina, which were well defended with siege artillery.

The heavy guns effectively delayed the advance of the Greek infantry and as the Greek artillery was out-ranged, the battle was indecisive for a considerable time.

Under cover of darkness, however, the attack was renewed, and in a brilliant charge the Greeks dislodged the Bulgarians from the heights and drove them across the Struma. In their retreat the Bulgarians destroyed the railway for some distance, again checking the Greek advance.

The Greeks then directed their march along the right bank of the river, supported by mountain batteries, and compelled the Bulgarians hurriedly to abandon their positions, leaving behind four heavy guns and a quantity of ammunition.

While this battle was in progress the Bulgarian forces from Istip, advancing towards Petrich, by way of Strumitza, capturing twenty guns.

By these two victories the Greeks are considered to have vanquished finally General Ivanoff's forces, whose rout has been complete. The Greeks occupied Dermihassan on Thursday when the Bulgarians evacuated the town.

Greeks Are Slaughtered.
Saloniki, July 11.—A deputation from Seres arrived here today and appealed to King Constantine to dispatch Greek troops to occupy the town. The deputation asserted that before evacuating Seres the Bulgarians slaughtered a large number of prominent Greeks who had been imprisoned since hostilities began. Among those killed were M. To consider ways and means to bring natural gas into Waco from the Mexico fields, the Mexico committee of the chamber of commerce, of which H. M. Baine is chairman, Louis Migel and W. W. Cameron members, will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the chamber.

All of the large consumers of fuel and others interested have been invited to be present. Aside from mapping out means to bring about the piping of the gas into Waco, the committee will demonstrate to the consumers where natural gas will lower their fuel bills by half.

The meeting will be an important one; an effort will be made to whip things into such shape that actual work may be started in a short time.

Dallas, July 11.—The problem of getting and holding 3,000,000 bales of cotton until it can all be sold for 150 per pound was the main feature discussed at today's session of a convention of southwestern cotton men, called here by a cotton company. About 1,000 men are in attendance.

WACO IS CENTER OF INDEPENDENT TELEPHONE CLUBS

SOCIETY FOR ADVANCEMENT OF HELLO WORKERS FORMED. DUGGER PRESIDENT.

With a membership of over fifty, the Independent Telephone society of the Brazos Valley Telephone company was organized last night at the Public Library and officers for the year were elected.

Within the next few months similar societies will be organized in all towns where independent companies have exchanges. These will be amalgamated with the Waco organization as the central body. Meetings will be held twice each month at the Public Library.

All employees of the company may become members of the society. Its purpose is of a two-fold nature—educational and social. Motion pictures of work in the different departments will be shown. These pictures will show work being done perfectly and through their efficiency, alertness and knowledge will be pounded home. Some of these pictures will be taken in Waco. Technical lectures were given by Professor Lewis of Chicago and John Stratton of Kellogg switchboard supply house last night.

Officers elected at the meeting last night were, Theodore Dugger, president; James Y. Hutchison, secretary. Committees on organization, entertainment and finance have been appointed as follows: Thomas Dugger, I. Peyton, John Davidson, J. Y. Hutchison, C. Oldham, J. J. Cline, L. Harmon, Miss I. Stokely, Miss M. Temple, Miss L. Goodie, Miss V. I. Gardner, R. Guthrie, Miss P. Proctor.

Of the towns that will have similar institutions are Houston, Fort Worth, Ennis, Waxahatchie, Taylor, Belton, Temple, San Antonio, Austin, Port Arthur, New Braunfels. All will be under the jurisdiction of the Waco society.

Are Preparing for An Excursion to the Falls County Fair

Preparations are now being made by a committee from the Young Men's Business League for an excursion on July 22 to Marlin during the Falls county annual fair. Special equipment will be secured and about 200 Wacoans will make the trip over the International and Great Northern.

The Falls county fair this year promises to surpass those of past years. Preparations have been under way for several weeks by the directors of the association, and the exhibits will be numerous and complete.

"than any arbitration board in existence." A letter dated May 17, 1902, from Mulhall to Mitchell, told of a conference of Mulhall and Governor Stone, at which Stone expressed sympathy with the miners.

"I think you could make a grand stroke," the letter said, in suggesting the calling of a strike, "if you would meet Governor Stone and make him your friend; he will be of great assistance to you in event of an anthracite strike."

Letter Goes on Record.

A letter of August, 1901, from Carroll Downs, who, Mulhall said, was secretary to the late Secretary McComas of Maryland, was put in the record by Senator Reed. It related to the employment of two men, officers of the Molders' union in Baltimore, in the treasury department in Washington.

Edward Booth, one of the men who was to get a Washington job, wrote to Mulhall, saying the organization could put two hundred active Republican political workers in the field.

A letter of July 12, 1903, to Mulhall, as head of the Workmen's Protective association, from an officer in the Association of Engineers in New York, was read by Senator Reed. The letter said that "Senator McComas has voted right in the interests of labor in every measure that has come before the United States senate in the last six years."

At this time, Mulhall said, Marshall Cushing was secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Speaking of letters from Cushing, Senator Reed found one without a signature and wanted to know if the National Association of Manufacturers' secretary wrote unsigned letters.

"Always," said Mulhall.

Urges Mulhall's Retention.

Senator Reed continued picking out letters at random for the purpose of getting them identified for the record. Among these was one from Marshall Cushing to John Yerkes, then commissioner of internal revenue, urging him to retain Mulhall as deputy collector customs at Baltimore. A note on the top of this letter stated that it was "absolutely confidential," as it "would be fatal if Senator McComas knew I was doing this."

Asked by Senator Reed why this would be fatal, Mulhall said: "Because the National Association of Manufacturers was fighting McComas. I had been appointed for three months by McComas just after the Baltimore fire."

Mulhall said his principal work for Cushing was to carry word to Senator McComas that Maryland was going against him and to "harrass him along that line," but McComas seemed to think the labor people were with him.

Explaining what Cushing wanted to do Mulhall said he was to go about among Maryland Republican leaders and create a sentiment against McComas on account of his eight-hour bill, which leaders of labor organizations opposed.

"Bundles" Are Distributed.

The witness told about the distribution of "bundles" of letters in Maryland, sent by Cushing from New York, protesting against the eight-hour bill that McComas was backing. He said he sent them to business men in Baltimore. He said Cushing was interested in May, 1904, in his candidacy for election as alternate to the Republican national convention that year. At that time Cushing sent him an extra large check to aid in his expenses and Mulhall was elected as alternate to General Agnus of Baltimore.

"Agnus was in New York at that time," said Mulhall, "and Cushing was using his influence to keep Agnus at home, away from the Chicago convention so that I would have a vote in the convention and so that he could control that vote."

An unsigned communication, purporting to be from Cushing to Mulhall on June 13, 1904, gave instructions for the visit of Mulhall and two labor men to Chicago. They were to do their best to prevent the endorsement of the eight-hour law by the Republican convention.

Slip-Up Fatal.

"Any slip-up by any of your friends," it said, "might be fatal."

Cushing spoke of certain resources. "What were these resources?" asked Senator Reed.

"Cash $500," said the witness.

"I was to take two active organized labor men and pay their expenses as well as my own."

"What were you going for?"

"We were to work against active men of organized labor, Gompers and the others."

One letter identified by Mulhall was addressed to Theodore Roosevelt when president, urging the appointment of a postmaster at Baltimore. It was from the Working Men's Protective Association, an organization which Mulhall had fostered, and resulted, Mulhall said, in President Roosevelt receiving a delegation of 100 citizens at the white house.

Letter Tells Roosevelt.

The letter told Mr. Roosevelt that "this organization, representative of fifty-two associations of organized labor, earnestly petitions you to appoint to the office of postmaster for this city Hon. Stephen R. Mason, chairman of the Republican city committee."

A letter which caused considerable amusement in the committee was identified by Mulhall as from Cushing. It characterized McComas as a person "who, while posing as a Republican and a decent and honorable man, who would not deceive anybody, nevertheless, tried to hand out to labor, organized or unorganized, a gold brick, a humbug or a false pretense in the way of a piece of legislation which nobody can understand and which cannot possibly accomplish anything that he promised that it will."

sit in conference at stated intervals with the board.

That reserve banks be at least equal to private banking establishments was urged in the report as essential in order that they may have the "desired potency in foreign exchange movements." In this connection it was suggested that in the creation of the reserve banks, a beginning be made in the present central reserve cities. The committee also urged that the limitation of $500,000,000 on issues of federal reserve notes was unnecessary and undesirable and that the assumption of an obligation by the government to redeem the reserve notes was unnecessary and "might in critical times seriously embarrass the treasury."

I. & G. N. IS SUED FOR BIG DAMAGES

WHITE ROCK GRAVEL AND SAND COMPANY ASKS COURTS FOR $158,879.

SWITCHING CAUSES TROUBLE

Alleged by Plaintiff That Defendant Charged Exorbitantly for Sending Cars to Texas Central.

Charging extortion and failure to comply with the ruling of the Texas railroad commission, the White Rock Gravel and Sand company of Waco, yesterday filed in the Fifty-fourth district court a suit against the International & Great Northern Railroad company, asking penalty and damages in a sum probably greater than any railroad company was ever sued for in a local court. Actual damages sued for are $879 and penalties aggregating $158,879 are asked.

The suit is based on the alleged refusal and failure of the defendant railroad company to absorb the switching charges paid by the plaintiff company in the switching of cars from the gravel company's pit over the Texas Central lines to the lines of the Great Northern.

The gravel pit of the Waco concern is located four miles north of the city at a point a short distance from the lines of the Texas Central. The petition recites the gravel company constructed a spur from its pit to the tracks of the Texas Central and contracted with the Texas Central for switching cars from the pit over the company's lines to the lines of other railroads; that a contract was made with the Texas Central providing for the payment of $5 and $5.50 as switching charges, and that in January, 1910, the contract was approved by the Texas railroad commission, the commission fixing the rate to be charged per car loaded per day. The ruling, the petition recites, made the gravel pits within the switching limits of the city of Waco.

Railroad Commission Ruling.

The petition further recites that previous to that time, on June 3, 1903, the railroad commission passed a ruling relative to the absorption of switching charges on commerce consigned to competitive points by rail. This ruling, the petition states, made it compulsory for the carrier receiving such consignment to absorb all the switching charge. However, the petition claims, the plaintiff was compelled to pay the Texas Central $5 and $5.50 for switching cars to the international tracks, and the International & Great Northern has refused to pay and absorb the switching charges in excess of $2.50 per car, where the switching charge is $5 and of $3 per car where the charge of the Texas Central is $5.50.

The petition further recites that this refusal of the defendant company has actually damaged the plaintiff in the sum of $879.

Claiming further that the refusal of the defendant company to absorb the entire switching charge is extortion, the petition asks damages from this cause on 316 separate cars handled by the International & Great Northern, in the sum of $158,879, or $500 for each car on which defendant refused to absorb the entire charge for switching.

Suit for extortion is based on the statute which provides in cases where it is proven extortion has been practiced damage in the sum of not less than $125 in each separate case and not more than $500 in each separate case may be collected. The suit of the gravel company asks damage in the maximum amount in the 316 separate cars handled by the Great Northern in which that company refused to absorb the entire charge for switching.

Death of M. E. Van Horn.

The funeral of M. E. Van Horn, who died yesterday afternoon at the family residence on Eighth street, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be made in First Street cemetery, Rev. F. N. Calvin officiating.

Mr. Van Horn moved to Waco September, 1909, accepting a position here as assistant manager of the American National Life and Accident Insurance company. He was a member of the Christian church.

He is survived by his wife, a son and two daughters.

Deacons and elders of the Christian church will act as honorary pall bearers.

Active pall bearers are: W. G. Russell, R. B. Hodges, W. R. Abel, S. O. Sellers, A. M. Neal and C. M. Oliver.

MART BOOSTERS COME TO TOWN

HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SIX LIVE WIRES CAMPAIGN FOR BIG ATTENDANCE AT FAIR.

Their forty-one cars honking in unison, Mart fair boosters, 176 strong, yesterday invaded the city. The delegation, which was to have visited Waco Thursday, according to a pre-arranged schedule, came to invite Wacoans to visit the Mart fair and stock show, to be held July 16, 17 and 18.

Met at the city limits by a committee from the Young Men's Business league headed by W. V. Crawford, the visitors were routed through the principal streets of the city, reaching Austin avenue, where they motored down the street for several blocks, and at Franklin turned off, going to the home of Dr. Pepper, where they were received by Dr. Lazenby, "father of Dr. Pepper," and committees from the Business League. As the brakes were put on in front of the building, the Dr. Pepper siren whistled a five-minute welcome.

In the machinery room the visitors were served with light lunches and refreshments by Mrs. Lazenby and Miss Ruth Lazenby. Appetites whetted by the twenty-mile drive, the "boosters" rapidly disappeared.

Maxwell Welcomes "Martins."

The boosters were welcomed to Waco by John Maxwell, city attorney, in a speech strong in pith and brevity. Mayor J. E. Searson replied, pledging the friendship of Mart to the Central Texas metropolis, and inviting Wacoans to attend the Mart fair, which opens next Wednesday. The second day, he declared, had been designated as "Waco Day." He promised a warm welcome.

E. M. Mann followed him with a short speech, to which Dr. Lazenby responded with a few witty remarks.

Souvenirs were distributed to the guests.

Following the luncheon the boosters were shown the principal points of interest in the city; one of the features was a view from the top of the Amicable. Shortly after 6 o'clock most of the visitors returned home.

For their mascot, the "Martins" carried with them E. W. Hendricks Jr., aged three years, the youngest booster.

SHIPPED TO "OLD SOD"

Bottles Containing Vitalitas, the New Earth Liquid Produced Only in Texas.

Shipments of liquid Vitalitas were recently made to Tipperary, Cork and Limerick, Ireland. They were small consignments and each went to "old folks at home," being sent by Texas relatives and friends.

While Vitalitas is comparatively new, its fame has spread rapidly and at least small quantities of it have found their way into all parts of the world. No attempt yet has been made to export Vitalitas abroad, but the time will come when it will be recognized in every civilized country as one of nature's greatest blessings.

Thousands of Texas people are daily finding new health and happiness in Vitalitas. They are telling their friends of it and shipping it to relatives over the earth.

Vitalitas is purely a Nature product. It is a safe and sure specific for all derangements of stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. It is effective even where all man-made medicines have failed. It cleanses the liver, overcoming all toxic poisons in the system, causing them to be thrown off and it puts new vitality into every part of the body. Indigestion, biliousness, rheumatism, catarrh, impotency, debility, kidney disorders, eczema, and all skin and blood troubles are relieved and cured by Vitalitas. It is sold under a positive guarantee. See the unique exhibit, showing how Vitalitas is extracted, and talk with the Vitalitas man at Powers-Kelly drug store. (Advertisement.)

from Mart. He is the son of F. W. Hendricks, owner of the Mart Transfer company.

Will Return Visit.

The visit of the Mart delegation will be returned July 17, "Waco day." An excursion is now being arranged by a special committee of the Young Men's Business league. About 200 people will go. They will leave over the International & Great Northern next Thursday morning, spending the day there and returning in the evening.

The sixth annual fair of the growing little town promises to be one of the best. The exhibits are for the most part of an agricultural nature, showing what that section of the country can produce. The stock exhibits will be larger this year than ever before and the premium allowances are most liberal. Hundreds of people will all over Central Texas will visit Mart on the three days.

The "Martins."

Among the visitors here yesterday were:

E. M. Mann, president of the Young Men's Business association; Harry E. Searson, E. M. Barles Jr., J. L. Spencer, F. F. Harder, J. J. Gibson, R. C. Vaughn, J. L. Vaughn, T. A. Seely, G. H. A genuine, tailor-made suit you can only obtain by leaving your order with an experienced tailor. The average man that is measured for a suit, wants something better than he can get in a store that handles only ready-made. But, although he pays for a tailor-made suit, he can not get it unless it is made in town, so that he can try it on once or twice. I have a large stock of woollens suitable for this particular time and season, and I am able to make a suit on very short notice.

"WHERE YOUR DOLLARS DO DOUBLE DUTY."

With the view of stimulating the general business of local merchants.

The News prints on Page 6 today a number of advertisements under the general title, "Where Your Dollars Do Double Duty." Each of these effective carries values of unusual merit, and at prices which probably will prove attractive to those buyers of merchandise who are looking for week-end bargains. To the layman it appears that each advertiser has selected his Saturday bargains with a keen understanding of their timeliness, and tardy shopping is not unlikely to be met with the statement, "Sorry, but that lot is gone." If this initial effort of The News to encourage larger Saturday buying meets the approval anticipated, the feature will be continued throughout the summer season. No one will deny that if a dollar nowadays can be made to do double duty, or even anything in excess of its normal purchasing power, that the high cost of living will have received something in the nature of a solace plexus blow. Read the several advertisements on Page 6

WACO RECRUITING OFFICER GOES TO MAIN NAVY OFFICE AT DALLAS.

O. M. Georgi, formerly of Galveston, succeeds in Navy Service. Thirteen Years.

L. Brady, electrician first class, who has been in charge of the navy recruiting office here, was yesterday transferred to the Dallas office. O. M. Georgi, boatswain's mate, first class, has been put in charge of the local office in place of Mr. Brady, who will be connected with the main Texas office at Dallas.

Mr. Georgi has been connected with the recruiting office of Texas for two years, having served at Galveston and recently in Dallas. He has been in the United States navy thirteen years, and has seen service on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and in European and Asiatic waters. He was on the torpedo boat Hopkins during the cruise around the world. He will be here indefinitely.

During the last six months the Waco recruiting station has done better work than during any similar period since its establishment.

TINY STORK CARDS REACH WACO FRIENDS

From Mr. and Mrs. Harry Epperson Savely came cards Friday announcing the arrival in their home of Harvey Epperson Savely, Jr., on the twenty-second of June. This proud mother is more readily recalled as Miss Daisy Bolton of South Fourth street. The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bolton, also the Misses Frankie Bolton, were in Washington City to welcome the first born into this home.

SOME SCHOOL PLANS FOR THE WACO GIRLS

The list of debutantes for the coming winter grows very slowly. It is known that Miss Frances van Boddie does not return to school. Miss Sallie Thompson will also enter society. So will Miss Beuna Clinton. Further than these no announcements have been made. The Misses Frances Hiers and Ethel Foster return to the Frances Willard school in New York. Miss Alice Brazelton will remain away. Miss Anne Risher takes another year off. Miss Pauline Brewster begins preparation for Bryn Mawr. Plans have not been divulged, but it is expected that Miss Elizabeth Patton will be formally presented, and that Miss Lucile Hill will be a debutante.

BACHELOR MAID SHOWER COMING INTO VOGUE

At last the lone lorn spinster is coming into her own. We had wondered when the stork shower, and then the graduation shower, and then the bridal shower, became so much the order of the day, where the poor spinster who was a babe too long ago to talk about, graduated in the dim mists of the past before a shower was even known, and dared not speak of a birthday, we say, we wondered if she could ever come into her own. She has. Some good friend of some bachelor maid "showered" her. Others followed, until now the bachelor maid shower is altogether the proper thing in society. It is needless to add the shower is of miscellaneous articles, bags, books, and the like.

A TALENTED READER IS IN OUR MIDDY

The visit of Miss Eva Austin to her aunt, Mrs. T. A. Blair, and to her many friends here, is, to give emphasis to the fact that Miss Austin is recognized as a reader of great promise. She is just graduated from Saint Mary's, Dallas. Her interpretation of Ingomar while there received enthusiastic comment; not only for the immediate expression in rendition, but for the promise it gave for possibility of development in the talent of Miss Austin. Next season Miss Austin will go east to devote her study to expression entirely. It is expected that she will eventually become a professional reader. Again referring to Ingomar, it is recalled that two score years ago by this beautiful translation from the German was one of the popular stage pieces. Frederick Warde, when in his prime, gave it as his favorite matinee. It is there that we find that oft repeated couplet: "Two souls with but a single thought, Two hearts that beat as one."

STORY HOUR TODAY AT THE LIBRARY

Miss Weymas announces that she will tell stories at the library this afternoon beginning with half after 4 o'clock. Every child in the city is invited to present. Last Saturday afternoon more than the usual vacation number was present, and a number of the little folks became so interested as to take out cards for summer reading. Mothers should encourage the little folks to hear these stories. They are of interest, but the promise it gave for possibility of development in the talent of Miss Austin. Next season Miss Austin will go east to devote her study to expression entirely. It is expected that she will eventually become a professional reader. Again referring to Ingomar, it is recalled that two score years ago by this beautiful translation from the German was one of the popular stage pieces. Frederick Warde, when in his prime, gave it as his favorite matinee. It is there that we find that oft repeated couplet: "Two souls with but a single thought, Two hearts that beat as one."

MANY GARDEN QUESTS WITH MRS. W. H. POOL

More than two hundred received the cards last announced that Mrs. W. H. Pool, with her daughter, Miss Carrie Pool, would be at home in honor of two summer brides, the Mesdames Trantham and Harrell. While this was not distinctively a debutante presentation, Miss Pool received her degree in June and this was her first formal appearance before her mother's friends. The restful, homelike atmosphere of old Speight street with its time honored trees, and the Pool home one of its attractive residences, made the beginning from which taste and beauty in arrangement converted the garden into an alfresco reception hall. The cool breeze which a few moments previous to the first calls broke the intense heat wave took the guests in an exhilarated mood to drink their fill of Mrs. Pool's hospitality. At the game Mrs. S. P. Brooks gave first welcome and direction to the formal line. Mrs. Pool, Miss Pool, the Mesdames Harrell and Trantham with Mrs. J. R. Collier were met. Around the garden in a more informal way were the members of the Round Table now in the city. These were the Mesdames A. H. Newman, F. G. Guitard, J. B. Johnson, F. G. Egert, A. E. Wells, Joseph Evans and E. M. Wright. The Mesdames J. L. Keeler and T. H. Chaypool matronized the refreshment service. Naturally the lawn, smoothly clipped, with blooms and vines, was attractive. The spacious porch was set with rugs, flower stands, porch chairs and other conveniences for the lingering guest. The punch bowl crowned a fernery, fresh and graceful. The wild sunflower was made patron of the garden, its golden dash of color being altogether acceptable. Among the receiving party aside from the always summer white, the now prevailing tones of blue were noticeable. Handing the punch cup and the sandwich tray were the Misses Mary Belle Pool, Jennie Pool of Mansfield, Aurelia Brooks, Emma Burleson. Among the many callers were noted several visitors who accompanied home guests. Among these Miss Charvoux of Dublin, Georgia, was introduced by Mrs. Newman, and Miss Mabel Cranfill of Dallas greeted old home friends. Both the bride honorees have left their girlhood since summer days began, and this was their first opportunity to receive general good wishes. Mrs. Harrell as a Baylor student has a large acquaintance in this city to which she has returned permanently. Miss Pool will not make a formal debut but will hereafter be the young lady of the home. Aside, then, from the pleasure of the social hour, so generously planned by Mrs. Pool, guests were privileged to share a congratulatory to a debutante and to two affable bride matrons.

MISS LATHROP SECURED FOR A WACO DATE

Women who are at all progressive need no introduction to Miss Julia Lathrop. Women who do not keep abreast of women's affairs will learn that she is the first woman ever appointed to the head of a national bureau. Also that when the bureau of Child Welfare was organized as a department of our national government, President Taft appointed Miss Julia Lathrop, a woman of world wide travel and a student of child conditions and needs. With the incoming of President Wilson no second thought was given. Miss Lathrop was immediately reappointed. She is now coming to Texas, one of the first states to be honored by her officially. Miss Kate Friend, knowing of this, bespoke Miss Lathrop for Waco early last spring. Her tour of Texas, which embraces ten days only, is being arranged by Mrs. Henry Fall of Houston. Mrs. Fall wrote on Saturday to know which date Waco preferred after the twelfth of November. Miss Lathrop comes primarily for the State Federation in Corpus Christi and speaks there on November 12. This means that she will be in Waco during the Cotton Palace, and Miss Friend is now advising with President Hoffman of the Cotton Palace in the idea that Miss Lathrop will be the drawing card for Woman's Day at the Palace. Just now even the mention of this woman of the hour is timely, in that the National Conference of Charities and Corrections is in session, and some strong speeches have been made along the line of comparison between what our country spends for the health of cows and hogs and what is expended for the health and the welfare of the nation's children. When Miss Lathrop then Waco it will be made the occasion of gathering the women from the contiguous towns. In case her date is during the Cotton Palace, this day will be one of banner attendance for the Palace.

Society Notes.

Mrs. William Mistrot, with her guest, Miss Frances Cox, is out at Bruceville for a few days.

Miss Camille Franklin, having completed her visit on the way, is now with relatives in Chicago.

A note from Mrs. Marie Clark Lee in Houston brings the pleasant information that her home has been sold and that plans will be made at once for a more attractive and modern residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dupree will leave with Wednesday for their season's recreation. This will be taken at the Galvez.

Cards came from Mrs. J. D. Mayfield upon the eve of her sailing from New York city. Passage was taken on the Cecile last Tuesday to land at Cherbourg. The steamer train was in waiting for Paris, and at once the trip was made to Rome. News was expected from Miss Lucile Mayfield's condition before sailing.

The first cards from Mrs. R. B. Spencer reached home friends on Saturday. The party is "shacking."

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Should Profit by Mrs. Hurley's Experience—Her Own Story Here Told.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, organic inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased once a month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world."

"After I had tried most every female remedy first, without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It deserves itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

Four Mustered Out.

Austin, July 11.—Because of inability to maintain the minimum enlisted strength four companies of the Texas National Guard were today mustered out of the service by the order of Adjutant General Henry F. Hutchins.

These companies were Company C, Lampasas; Company L, Athens; Company D, Marshall, and Company H, of Hubbard, all of them of the Third Infantry.

Governor Appoints Three.

Austin, July 11.—Governor Colquitt today appointed R. S. Dilworth, John C. Jones and J. W. Rainbolt, all of Dallas, as members of the Gonzales state park commission.

Property Values Increase.

Austin, July 11.—The comptroller's department announces that estimates received from 106 counties and representing 26 per cent of the total valuation of the state, shows an increase of $32,196,958 over last year's figures.

Only one big county has reported—Dallas. Very few counties have reported decreases. Navarro county reported today an increase of $2,380,000 and Leon county an even million increase.

The government department of railways in Berlin has circulated a "solemn warning" urging women railway employees to reform their "rude and vicious" behavior toward passengers.

ONE OF MANY PLEAS FOR RELIEF.

In the plea which the Texas Pharmaceutical Association is addressing through the press to the people for some relief from the Texas law imposing a stiff tax on sellers of alcohol there is nothing especially novel. It is of a piece with many complaints that have gone up through the State in the aftermath of hasty and ill-considered legislation, for several years; complaints that, as a rule, are urged more emphatically and sensibly than the actual opposition to the objectionable measures in their course before the lawmakers at Austin. It but goes to show further that Texans are a long time in awakening to the detriments, the hardships, the injustices of a deal of the amateur legislation effected by those they elect to serve the interests of the average man. Mr. E. G. Eberle, the association's secretary, writes us that "the people evidently have not recognized what existing legislation meant alcohol means to them." Mr. Eberle will find none to contradict him, in this regard. Doubtless nine in ten Texans did not know there was such unwarranted legislation in existence. He adds:

"Alcohol has been used for centuries in the preservation and the preparation of medicines, and without its use, no present knowledge no solvent that is harmless can be substituted. Alcohol is official in the United States Pharmacopoeia as well as of those in all other countries. The United States Pharmacopoeia is legal standard in all States and the United States. In the manufacture of the majority of preparations alcohol is used either directly or indirectly. The pharmacist not only does the patient an injustice when he manufactures these preparations without alcohol, but he violates the laws of the State, and the United States, which no one would refer to the daughter who had permission to go out to swim but not to near the water. This is no time to vent spleen or show the other fellow how and where he had made a mistake and be remembered that sick people are in the consideration—life, health.

Druggists cannot afford to pay the tax for using alcohol; it would mean confiscation of their business or go into the liquor business, which no-minded person desires them to do.

Not only should every druggist take a personal interest in this matter—the governor and the legislature, but the people are as deeply concerned. Relief should be given at once. It may be that a construction of the present law may be had which will accomplish this, but not being versed in law, I am not in a position to give an opinion. I do hope every reader will recognize the importance of this matter and have this unfortunate situation relieved at the earliest possible moment. No State or country has a comparable condition relating to drugs and medicines confronting it.

We have gone thus far into the association's statement because, however used we may be to the principle, or lack of it in such legislative circumstances, underlying the protest, we consider the protest wholly reasonable and well founded. But we have little confidence that the association may hope for a construction of any law affecting the sale of anything akin to an intoxicant that would relieve any sort of sellers or business users of such commodity from the indiscriminate taxation thrown around traffic in the commodity. It is too close to the liquor proposition and the liquor proposition is too close to a majority in our State government to warrant hope of any such exception. In Texas, anything pertaining to intoxicants is taxed or will be taxed to the very limit—one need only cite that farce, the non-intoxicating malt liquor tax—and we do not believe the association seriously anticipates a Texas legislature of the calibre in vogue will relieve its members from paying a quasi-liquor-tax on a commodity that is a necessity in their business and the public's welfare. "For medicinal purposes," as to alcohol, or liquor, means very little these days to our legislators whose contracted viewpoint dresses their own "principles" in spotless white. Alcohol is a menace, as they see it—what does it matter that it must be used in making medicines for the sick?

Nevertheless, we hope our pharmacists will get the relief they're entitled to.

AN EDUCATIONAL COMPARISON.

"The average man of the people in America is much more interested in the affairs of the public school than the average man in Germany," declares Dr. George Kerschensteiner, a well-known German educator, in "A Comparison of Public Education in Germany and the United States," issued by the bureau of education. "In the daily press, reports and discussions on educational topics occupy a space which to my observation is fully ten times that which German newspapers devote to the same subject."

Dr. Kerschensteiner compares point by point the school systems in the two countries. He shows how Germany obtains educational efficiency by centralization of authority within the individual States. He admits that possibly centralization has gone even further than is desirable in Germany, but is equally positive that there is not enough centralization within the individual States of the country. As a result of the lack of State compulsion, he says, "we see today in the United States the sharpest contrasts between school systems that are incredibly poor and others of the highest possible type, that would do credit to the finest civilized nations of the globe." He finds that American citizens of a community have more direct control over their schools than in Germany, and commends this condition. He compares the teachers in the two countries—their training, their salaries, their tenure of office. He discusses religion in the schools of the two countries, coeducation, and other points of similarity and difference.

Direct election of school-board members by the citizens, as found in the United States, impressed Dr. Kerschensteiner very favorably. He notes that in Germany the citizens have little or nothing to say about their school system. "In Germany the local school boards are nowhere chosen by popular vote," he declares. He thinks the American plan might be a very good thing for his own country, particularly as a means of arousing genuine interest in education.

The American high school comes in for some interesting comment by Dr. Kerschensteiner, both complimentary and otherwise. He praises the high school's democratic spirit, its aim to educate all the people; but he misses the thoroughness that characterizes the work of the German gymnasium. In both nations the schools are now in a period of great development, according to the Munich educator. "The great advantage that Germany possesses," he declares, "in addition to the relentless thoroughness of the whole educational work is the well-regulated organization of a State-provided school system, which requires in each community a school as good as that in every other community. But this advantage has been purchased at the expense of many qualities for which we must envy the American schools."

Of "those unsentimental Englishmen" the Baltimore Sun writes, and bids us just to think of women with such pretty names as "Kitty" and "Clara" being sentenced to three years' penal servitude by a brutal English judge! "They had done nothing much," says the Sun—"merely committed arson and caused $70,000 damage—and yet they are treated as if they were criminals, when, in point of fact, they were trying to prove they were patriots and reformers." The Sun's comment on pretty names of these pugnacious petticoats recalls the Chicago Tribune columnist's lines on "The Cussed Damsel":

The Cussed Damsel cut loose
About half-past eleven,
Prepared to do as wild a deed
As any under heaven.
Oil-soaked rags were in her hands
And the bombs in her grip were seven.

"She cried, 'We'll blow this mansion up Where Lloyd and George do dwell!'
'Wow!' cried her fellow suffs, whose names
Were sweet as caramel:
Millicent, Pansy, Rosalys, Phyllis and Christabel."

If Mr. Thomas Carson and associates have the idea that Waco fandom, their meal-ticket patrons, is pleased with their performances in Dallas, Fort Worth and (especially) Austin, they will be good enough to revise their ideas. Every ball team has to go away from home once in a while and the Navigators should learn to clout the ball before an unsympathetic crowd that doesn't try to make excuses for punk playing. (The writer is weary of settling on bets).

"Ragtime music is an evolution of social or individual soil conditions," Mr. A. E. Winship told the National Educational association. "You might as well fight the blue Canadian thistle with resolutions in a kindergarten convention as to campaign against ragtime by denunciation in a Christian Endeavor convention." This coupling is the worst of many bad things we have heard about the blue Canadian thistle.

All but 150 of the 12,000 chauffeurs in Paris went on a strike because of police regulations, which impels Washington Post to inquire, "Is it possible that there are but 11,850 taxi bandits in Paris?" It seems to us the 150 who stuck are the real bandits. Even the rigidest of police regulations cannot seriously cut into their profits.

"Are there automobile speed regulations in Texas cities?" writes a behind-the-times friend in Louisville. There are, but they differ very little from our Texas prohibition that does not prohibit—they do not regulate. Our police departments and police court judges can't forget the poll tax lists.

"There isn't anything in the drink game but heartaches and cold-pocked books," preaches the empty-blooded Manchester Union. Well, that's what some of our Texas white aprons have been thinking since July 1.

The fact that the federal grand jury in San Francisco did not approve of the president's course in the McNab matter will occasion great grief in the White House and the department of Justice.

Distinguished patriots in London, Havana and Mexico City soon must conclude that the only cabinet really worthwhile is one whose bottom is a storage for bottled goods.

The only reason we are not interested in the discussion of a successor to Hon. Cato Sells on the national committee is that the Hon. Cato will not, we think, resign.

And now is an epidemic of newspaper yarns about old men who ascribe their fullness of years to single blessedness. Let 'em rave. One day of glory's worth a thousand years of life.

The State controller's figures on road and bridge bonds issued in Texas since 1909 is as good evidence of progress within as the crop reports are of prosperity within.

The Greeks seem to be occupied chiefly with driving General Ivanoff.

Texas Viewpoints

May It Be "Dealt With," Then.

The London Daily Mail expresses, as quoted by Houston Post, "the belief that the recently enacted 'cat and mouse' law has broken the back of militant suffragetteism in England. The new law requires that when a suffragette who has been sentenced to prison falls ill through a hunger strike, she shall be released only long enough to recover her strength and then be returned to jail to continue her sentence. Likewise, it is stated, that subscriptions to the militant cause have been greatly checked by the official warning that subscribers are liable to prosecution. The genius of the English lawmaking body may be less slow than that of other like bodies in solving problems designed to strengthen the force and effectiveness of law, but it usually triumphs in the end. Militant suffragetteism is a craze that needs only to be dealt with in a proper way for it to expend its force." But if the London Daily Mail considers the "cat and mouse" law is "a proper way" to deal with this form of near-dementia and violence, the Mail is talking through a poorly-filled tile.

The outrages of Tuesday last and the weak, silly disposition in court on Wednesday of some of the militant worst damage-workers show exactly how much the back of this organized disturbance has not been broken. "Warnings" to these women and their subscribing sympathizers are a sad joke and the "cat and mouse" law is a sadder. To release an arsonette, a bombette, an acidette from jail because she desires to martyr herself for the cause is the height of folly and means nothing toward the restoration of law and order in the world's biggest community. The Post is right: militancy must be dealt with in a proper way before it will expend its force. And it has not yet been dealt with in a proper way. Let 'em starve!

Our Public Benefactors.

Excellent! well said by Austin Tribune: "It is noted that the attorney general's department is tickled most to death because the price of gasoline has declined two cents in the last few days, and it is given out that the Magnolia suit 'did the business.' It is to smile. When the Magnolia suit was filed, and the attorney general put its business in the hands of his friends, gasoline was selling at 15 cents. Within two months after the prosecution was begun, the price advanced 33-1-3 per cent. Did the attorney general's department take credit for the advance? The Tribune hasn't noticed the claim. Now that the price has dropped 10 per cent, or 40 per cent of the advance, there's a celebration in the department of justice over what has been accomplished for the 'peepul.' Lord, how we play politics, regardless of the weather! And won't it work out beautifully all 'round, Brother? Only fancy, if our public benefactors at Austin collect a cluster of unearned millions for the State treasury the tax rate will drop almost to nothing for a year or two and we can buy all the gasoline we want with what we save on taxes, be the price never so high. And after that year or two, with gasoline skied and the tax rate at least at a cloud altitude to make up for the two 'fat' years, we can neither buy gasoline nor pay the taxes. It is indeed a magnificent continent that we once wrested from the aborigines!"

A Sage "Suspect."

"If, according to the Washington experts," digs Fort Worth Star-Telegram, "the United States broke all records in liquor and beer consumption the past year, though the 'dry' area spreads on and on, we suspect some of the militant crusaders under the white banner must be slipping around to the express office occasionally." Your suspicion is extremely well founded. Whisper! Would the express companies still be going their way a-grinnin' if it were permitted to ship s, v and m liquors by parcel post?

After All, It's Not.

Tulsa (Okla.) World: "The offer of free electric fans for sick persons made by the Public Service company demonstrates again the fallacy of the oft-repeated statement that 'corporations have no souls.' Here is a proposition to donate fans to all such as need them, to those who cannot pay for them. And it is good to recall, in this connection, that the Public Service company and the Tulsa Ice company for days and days have been giving ice free to all who need it and cannot pay for it. The world is not such a bad place, after all." Indeed, it's not, and we admit to Viewpoints that paragraph from another State's newspaper for the reason that Oklahoma is neighboring and the near-home example of Tulsa's public service corporations may appeal as a blessed, inexpensive charity to some of our Texas dittos—maybe, perhaps, sometime.

Waco Is Coming.

(Cleburne Review.)
The Young Men's Business league of Waco will make a visit to Cleburne on Thursday, July 24. They are more than welcome. Waco and Cleburne in former years were next door neighbors but Dallas and Fort Worth have slipped in as a road of the Geyser City in some respects regarding the connection with Cleburne. Our two cities, however, should be the best of friends and we are more than glad to see Waco warming up to us. Cleburne went down there last fall to the Cotton Palace, a thousand strong, and that old town on the Brazos will have to get up and go to equal that. Of course we haven't anything like the Cotton Palace for their entertainment but we can and will show them the best town in Texas its size. Come on, you are more than welcome.

He Has a Panama.

(Austin Statesman.)
Colonel Mique Harris, the pungent paragrapher of the Waco News, is reported vacationing shoreward, and society editors are polishing up their choicest adjectives in expectation that it is really going to happen this trip. But the members of the paragraphers' union see method and not mystery in the timeliness of the vacation of Colonel Harris. Colonel Lochridge, the brains of the union, is due to return within a week and bring with him renewed energy for the settling of accumulated offenses committed during his absence. When Colonel L. hangs up his Panama and takes the cover off his trusty typewriter, the things will begin to happen.

You're Wrong, Hugh—Jimmy Was There and Made a Speech.

(Fort Worth Record.)
Thirty Waco business men inspected the Mexico gas field. Four well known experts did not make the journey; or, at least their names do not appear in the list of also-rans. The Record has reference to Colonel A. R. McCallum, George Robinson, Colonel Mike Harris and plain James Hays Quarles. When a gas field is to be inspected gas experts should lead the invading army. Expert testimony comes high, but it is worth the price.

When Our Navigators Napped.

WANT COUNTY TO HELP IN MAKING OLD BRIDGE SAFE

WILL GO BEFORE COURT—COST WILL BE LOWER THAN $15,000.

A committee from the city commission will confer with the county commissioners when that body meets Monday in an effort to have the county participate in the expense of rehabilitating the suspension bridge, which connects East and West Waco. Charles Moore, representative of Austin Bros., a Dallas bridge concern, will accompany the city commissioners when they appear before the county board, to explain the details of reconstruction. Commissioners Foster and Caulfield and Mayor Mackey will compose the committee from the city government.

At the meeting of the commission yesterday morning Mayor Mackey stated that he was in receipt of a letter from Austin Bros. to the effect that Mr. Moore would call upon him Monday and would be prepared to present a cost estimate of the cost of the work then was first made.

The first estimate called for an expenditure of from $15,000 to $22,000 on the bridge. The letter of yesterday, however, indicated this estimate would be reduced somewhat. It also stated the bridge concern had completed the tracings and drawings and would be prepared to present a detailed plan for repairing the bridge.

The city will ask the county to share in the expense of the reconstruction. It is stated by the bridge people that if repaired according to the plans they propose, the structure will be more durable and safer than when erected in the first place.

STUDIES NEW SILOS

BRAHAN AT A. & M. TO LEARN FEATURES OF NEW EN-SILAGE MOVE.

Experiment Stations' Silos Being Filled Now—Good Crops Cause Increase in Their Erection.

College Station, July 11.—R. W. Brahan, prison commissioner, with headquarters at Huntsville, is at the A. & M. College studying methods of erecting on the prison farms, and Mr. Brahan came here to ascertain the best way to place the ensilage in the silos.

There are three silos on the state experiment station farms and two on the college farms and these are being filled now.

The penitentiary silos were erected under the direction of B. Youngblood, director of experiment stations, and Mr. Brahan was his guest here today. Crops are good on the prison farms according to the commissioner. Eighty-eight cars of Irish potatoes, seven cars of cucumbers and four cars of cabbage were marketed, and still enough of these products was left to meet the demands of the penitentiary commissaries. Cotton will be good unless it is ravaged by weevils.

Mr. Brahan was delighted with the college and experiment station farms. Obtained $500,000 Illegally. Boston, July 11.—Frederick E. Small, formerly of Everett, Mass., who was brought here from Mayer, Ariz., was

Mr. Geo. Dole Wadley
President Southern States Cotton Corporation Returns From Europe

Announces That All Arrangements Have Been Made to Finance the Cotton for 1913.

Only Remains for the Cotton Grower to Do His Part to Make 15c Cotton a Certainty.

The arrival of Mr. George Dole Wadley, president Southern States Cotton Corporation, from Europe is an event of unusual importance to the entire South, carrying with it the assurance that all arrangements have been made for financing the cotton under the plan of the corporation. Mr. Wadley stated: "I found no difficulty in reaching people who were not only able but willing to undertake this business. The point to be settled was the amount of financing which would be necessary. My proposition was that they enter into a firm contract with me on the part of the Southern States Cotton Corporation for financing five hundred thousand bales of cotton, that they were to give me a supplementary paper which would state upon the fulfillment of the contract by the Southern States Cotton Corporation they would then finance any additional amount of cotton on the same terms which the Southern States Cotton Corporation might be able to deliver. This contract was accepted, duly signed by us, and certified to by the American consul.

"After the contract had been signed one of the gentlemen who is party to it stated to me that he believed when the Southern States Cotton Corporation had delivered the five hundred thousand bales of cotton, and that the world knew positively that we were able to finance the cotton in any amount there would be no necessity for any larger loans, although they would be prepared to make them; that he believed the security of cotton under the plan of the Southern States Cotton Corporation the best collateral for loans of anything he knew.

"As a result of these negotiations I believe that the Southern people can now secure the value for their cotton and it only remains for them to sell to the corporation under the terms of the contract their cotton in sufficient quantities to establish the price of 15 cents per pound, the cotton raisers of the South have in the future nobody to blame but themselves."

CONTRACT YOUR COTTON—ATTEND THE GREAT CONVENTION, DALLAS, JULY 10-12, and see for yourself the wonderful progress of the plan throughout the South.

CITY MARKET

New Enterprise for Waco

The City Market opened at 610 in the Primm Building is making a specialty of selling Fruits and Vegetables direct from the grower to the consumer. They have been open for business for only about one week and their cheap prices and fresh produce have drawn hundreds of customers who are now making daily visits to this popular market and selecting their Fruits and Vegetables soon after same have been gathered from the orchards and gardens.

They also have installed a large refrigerating room where they can keep their stock in perfect condition, free from dirt and insects. This enables them to carry a large stock of cold melons at all times, and at a price you can afford, as it is their idea to sell cold melons at the price you have to pay for the uniced melon. You can get the best melons the market affords at all times by calling at this market.

This market will be a boon to Waco people who are interested in fresh produce at reasonable prices, and you will save a lot of money by getting the "habit" of buying your produce at this place. Remember the place.

sert they have about solved the mysterious murder of Mrs. J. M. Seitz in this city Thursday night. Three negroes have been arrested, and one of them has been spirited out of town.
They decline to make public the infamous deed, but it is known that teeth marks furnish the clue.

It will be recalled that Mrs. Seitz of Post, Tex., here for her health, left her boarding house about 4 o'clock Wednesday evening to make some purchases and get the mail. She was seen about the street near dusk and the next morning her dead body, minus hat, shoes, parasol and handbag, was found in an alleyway near her boarding house.

Four stab wounds in her breast told how she met death, while many bruises showed on her body and on one shoulder was visible the imprint of large human teeth which had brought the blood. She had also been outraged.

Mrs. Seitz had been murdered elsewhere and her body deposited where found. That conclusion was irresistible. She had received a telegram from her husband yesterday saying he was en route to join her. He had been in the mercantile business at Post, Tex., for some time and had sold out and with a man named Howe was going into business at Freeport. This program was well understood and Mr.

Seitz in wiring his wife informed her he was accompanied by Mrs. Howe and little daughter, Lulu. When this party reached Angleton Wednesday night at 10 o'clock and Mr. Seitz was told his wife was missing he stated she had some friends at Alvin and he would go on there. On returning and reporting no trace of her at that point the search became intensified and it was Mr. Seitz who discovered the body and gave the alarm. He was taken into custody by the officers and was in jail this morning, but if any complaint had been lodged against him
the fact was not made public nor so far as can be ascertained are there any facts of an incriminating character against him.

Officers allege that Mrs. Seitz started for home late Thursday afternoon and that she was evidently seized and taken to some residence near where the crime was committed. This is in the heart of the best residence section and several owners of homes there are absent for the summer and the belief is the crime was committed about one of these, although none had been searched at 8 o'clock this morning.
One of the officers said:

"If a confession that will clear up this entire matter is not forthcoming during the day every residence in the neighborhood will be searched and especially all outhouses."

Officers denied they had located any of the missing articles known to have been with Mrs. Seitz.

Relatives of the dead woman reside at Cisco, at which point it is announced the remains will be shipped for interment.

Delay in Granting Permit.

Marlin, July 11.—The Marlin trade and Falls County fair excursion left Marlin on its western trip just as the town clock was striking eight and arrived at Chilton, the first stop, on schedule time. Here the people seemed only too glad to have Marlin citizens as their guests. Here we were joined by J. L. Litteral, president of the Falls County Fair association, and R. C.
Zimmerman, one of the directors of the fair, together with other citizens from Blevins, Dot and Cogo.

Cordial receptions greeted us at each of the stops, Mooreville, Bruceville and Eddy, and these people seemed to be pleased to have Marlin citizens with them.

Our next stop was at Blevins, the home of Mr. Litteral. Here a good crowd had gathered to meet the excursionists. Plenty of good ice water was to be had, and cigars were furnished to all those who smoke. While the ladies were waiting for soda water and other cold drinks. Here, as at all other places, Ernst's band made music suitable to the occasion.

Our next stop was at Cogo, and here too, we met with a very cordial reception. Fine cigars were furnished to all those who wished to smoke.

The next place to stop was at Durango, and here a good crowd had assembled to meet us. Durango's band, which is composed of both gentlemen and ladies, joined Ernst's band in furnishing music. To say the least, the reception at this place was just grand.

Our next stop being at Westphalia, which is so famous as one of the best and most progressive communities in the county. Here the famous German band and Ernst's band made music that would "soothe any savage breast."

J. L. Nathan and other citizens of Rosebud met us at Westphalia and escorted us into the city of Rosebud, conducting the party to the ice plant,
where a great treat was in store. Ice beer was served to all those who wished it, and to those who did not wish it, had lemonade and other cold drinks. The next thing on the program was dinner, which was had at the hotels and restaurants and other places where good dinners were to be found. After boosting the town for the fair, we returned back to the ice plant, where we were served with ice cold watermelons, and this was one feast that all took part in. It goes without saying, with this crowd of boosters, that Mr. Nathan knows how to entertain a bunch of boosters as well as he does to run the business end of the ice and light plants.

To say that we were treated royally by Rosebud people would be putting it mildly.

We left Rosebud at 3 o'clock for Travis and Lott. At each of these places good crowds were there to receive us, and the reception at these places was all that could be wished for. As Lott was the last stop, the boosters left for their homes.

The boosters seemed to know their duty, and each acted well his part.

There were no accidents, no delays and stops were made as were scheduled.

The crops in West Falls are simply splendid. No grander sight is seen anywhere. Many predict a big crop unless all signs fail. Merchants report good summer business, farmers are driving automobiles and are prosperous and happy.

The ladies of the party, of whom there were quite a number, seemed to enjoy the outing and boosting for the fair. The Falls County fair, which opens on the 22nd of July, is going to be a success and have a big attendance.

The roads most of the way were ideal, and good speed was made on all of them.

L. E. Allen returned this morning from Corsicana, where he went with the ball team.

J. F. Allen of the Alto Springs community is in town today. He reports a good rain there Thursday.
The Westphalia band is coming to Marlin on German Day at the Falls

County fair. The Westphalians are coming strong with the band.

Mrs. E. F. Kavanaugh of Gainesville and E. C. Smith of Houston, and their children are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kel-win.

The Corsicana team put it over the Marlin team in games in the oil city, played Wednesday and Thursday. But Marlin gave them an interesting contest just the same.

E. Perkins of Anderson county is visiting relatives east of Marlin. He was in town today and says that he is going to move back to old Falls county, as it is good enough for him.

A. Y. Curtis came up from Houston
Thursday, returning Thursday night.
Mr. Curtis states that Houston continues to build skyscrapers and that there is much activity in real estate and commercial lines.

Marlin and vicinity got a good cotton shower Thursday afternoon just about the time the boosters came in from their trip. It also rained in the Rose-bud section about the same time. The boosters are credited with waking up the rain clerk.

Judge and Mrs. W. E. Hunnicutt came over from Rosebud this morning, where Mrs. Hunnicutt had been visiting Mrs. L. J. Nathan. The judge remained in Rosebud after the boosters left. He reports a good rain in the Rosebud section yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. Harter and family
Charles Schuh and family. Mrs. Traxler, Mrs. Donohoe, and Miss Rickelmann have gone for a ten-days' outing at Stein's Crossing on the Brazos, where they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Barnes and the Herrington family.

Mrs. Carrie Magee Dies.
Marlin, July 11.—Mrs. Carrie E. Magee died at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
J. L. Magee Thursday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock. She was the mother of Mr.
Magee. She was ill but a few days.

The funeral was held this afternoon at 5:30 from the residence west side of the square. Services at the residence.

Moses Prepares For His Work.

Third Quarter, Lesson II.

Exodus 2:11-25, July 13, 1913.

Moses is easily the towering personality of the Old Testament. His achievements place him foremost among the wonder-workers of Providence. The question, "Whence came his wisdom and power?" is not speculative, but practical. The preparation of Moses for his work illustrates how all patriots may be gotten ready. . . . First he was well-born. Not in the sense that a golden spoon was in his mouth or a silver canopy over his crib. The piety of his parents was a greater endowment than a fat bank account. They recognized that their son was an instrument fit for God's purposes. They risked their lives to save him in spite of the king's commandment. In that they were impelled not by mere natural affection, but by faith they saw in him the deliverer destined to break the yoke of bondage and lead God's people from the brick-kilns of Egypt to the highlands of Canaan. In the impossible years in which his own mother was permitted to keep the child he was thoroughly grounded in the thrilling history of the patriarchs and in the high hopes of Israel. He learned the unity, spirituality, and providence of God. He learned also that the Hebrews were not always to be slaves, and that some one was to be their deliverer. He was taught also that it was through Israel that all nations were to be blessed. The boy Moses lived in the atmosphere of these glorious hopes. The inspiration of these never left him. . . . When at length he exchanged his mother's cottage for Pharaoh's palace he carried with him the ineffable teachings. His mother endowed him with a legacy of heroic thoughts and hopes, which he was certain later to mint into heroic deeds. . . . All unconsciously Egypt herself furnished the education and training of one who was to, later, deprive her of the unrequited toil of her millions of serfs. Moses made spoil of the wisdom and wealth of Egypt. Yet, what he saw and learned only tended by contrast to deepen the lessons of his childhood. Egypt's religion was dark and worthless as compared to that of Israel. Pure ethical ideas and aims of patriarchs shone in contrast to the sordid ideas and customs of Pharaohs. . . . Soon or late the ideal of Israel must clash in Moses' soul. He must needs make the fateful choice—Egypt and royalty! Israel and rags! That is a talismanic record. "He chose rather to suffer affliction with the people of God—esteemed reproach of Christ greater riches—had respect to the recompense of reward!" He had the vision that is indispensable to heroism. . . . Moses' premature move toward emancipation led, under Providence, to the completion of his education. It made fight necessary. The awful solitude of Midian were educative in themselves. There he had opportunity in the meditative life of the shepherd to review his knowledge of Egypt's language, literature, law, and customs; to consider the venerable points in Pharaoh's character and administration, and also to review the strength and weakness of his own countrymen. There also he learned every inch of the Sinai peninsula, from point to point of which he was to lead his emancipated nation for forty years.

The Teacher's Lantern. Moses' Hebrew home was his primary school. He got the rudiments of religion there. All his after life was a superstructure on that foundation. His parents were his teachers. Right well did they acquit themselves in their supremely important task. . . . The palace of Pharaoh was Moses' intermediate school. A royal court is not merely a place of luxury, but one of unparalleled opportunity. There Moses saw not only the inner life of the monarchs, but of all visiting kings and princes as well. There he could observe international affairs and relations with singular facility. It is believed he may also have studied at one of the national universities. All that Herodotus and Plato learned in later years as visitors, Moses learned as a member of the royal family. Egypt was the greatest nation of antiquity for applied sciences. There he got the industrial education which was to be pre-eminently useful to him in the wilderness. The art of soldiery was to make him inimitable among great commanders, and this he probably acquired by the actual discipline of camp and field. . . . But if Moses' home was his primary school, and the palace of Pharaoh was his intermediate school, then the peninsula was his high school. In the great solitude he digested what he had learned. There he saw the implications and applications of it all. What Michael Angelo's secret studio in the wall of his Florentine palace was to him, the wilderness was to Moses. In the one place Angelo learned "how to swing the Pantheon in the air" in the other Moses learned how to swing a nation up to the commanding position Providence designed for it.

The Young People's Devotional Service, July 12.—James 4:6-12. "Speak not evil of one another." The Bible is not dictatorial or peremptory. Its sharpest commands are saturated with love. "Speak not evil" does so appealingly to "brethren." The Bible is also reasonable. It explains why one must not speak evil of another. To do so is to arrogate to oneself the office of judge.

New Trolley Tracks Will Soon Link "Twin Wacos"

First Car Crosses Brazos Wednesday at 10 O'clock—Fifteen Years Wait of East Wacoans Ends.

Street car service to East Waco will be inaugurated by the Southern Traction company at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. At that hour the first car will cross the new steel bridge which spans the river. As guests of honor, members of the city commission and newspaper representatives have been invited to make the trip. Officials of the Traction company will also be aboard the car.

H. B. Ross, local superintendent of the Traction company delivered the invitation at the commission meeting yesterday morning. Mr. Ross said one of the largest cars in the local service with a seating capacity of some seventy persons, will be utilized for the trip, and he desired that members of the city commission, their wives and newspaper representatives should be aboard the car. A photograph of the first car to cross the bridge will be made.

Will Kill Delays. Mr. Ross was requested to appear before the commission to discuss complaints that had been made because of the delay occasioned street car traffic at Fifth and Austin streets by reason of the conductors stopping their cars at this point to turn back their registers and check up. Ross explained this system had been inaugurated because it was more convenient to check up at that corner, but that Commissioner Dollins had taken the matter up with him and he had given orders to have all registers made up in front of the terminals of the company at Fourth and Washington streets in the future. He said it would take practically twenty-four hours to put into practice the new order, but after that time there would be no delay at Fifth and Austin streets. The commission expressed its appreciation at the ready acquiescence to its request.

Mr. Ross stated further that three hundred men were now employed connecting the East Waco tracks with those on this side of the river, and that service to East Waco would begin Wednesday.

"Mackey Special" Safe. He also stated that he expected the shipment of new cars to reach here this month. In this connection Mayor Mackey asked him if he were going to do away with "The Mackey Special," which is car No. 42. Mr. Ross said this car had been transferred to the Highland Park lines, where it was giving good service.

No. 42 is characterized as a "misfit," being a "home made" car of rather limited dimensions.

Sisters May Build Hospital

Commission Willing to Deed Tract if Legal—Mackey Confers With Sister Superior—Old Sanitarium Wholly Inadequate.

With the view of providing some suitable hospital, where the indigent of the city, suffering with contagious diseases, may be properly cared for, the city commission will in all probability submit to the sisters of the Providence sanitarium a proposition which may solve the question.

Mayor James H. Mackey announced to the commissioners at the meeting of that body yesterday that he had been in conference with the sister superior of the sanitarium with the view of making definite arrangements. He stated the best solution in his mind was to deed the tract of land on which the present city hospital is located to the sisters in consideration of their erecting a building on the land and caring for such cases as the city may have under a contract at so much per bed. The tract on which the city hospital is located consists of five or six acres. It was donated for hospital purposes and is said to be favorably situated.

Legal Right Raised. The question of the legal right of the city to dispose of real estate was raised and the matter was referred to City Attorney Maxwell for an opinion. Mayor Mackey said he had no proposition from the Catholics, but that he hoped they would consider one from the city in the event the authority is vested in the city to dispose of the land.

Under the present contract with the Providence sanitarium the city cannot place patients suffering from contagious diseases in the sanitarium. The mayor also said the sisters would consider no proposal to erect a building near the present sanitarium to be used for such purposes, and the only solution he could see at present was to give them the tract of land.

$40,000 Hospital. He was of the opinion, if the gift could be made, it is possible that the sisters will erect a building to cost between $20,000 and $40,000 on the land. In which event, he said, the city would contract for the care of its patients suffering from contagious diseases, and the hospital could also care for pay patients.

The present city hospital is said to be totally inadequate. In connection with the discussion, Commissioner Caulfield classed it as "a shame and disgrace to the city of Waco," stating there were no facilities at present for the care of patients.

The mayor expressed the hope that the sisters would make some proposition to the city, as he had requested them to do.

Austin, July 11.—Cincinnati base hits coupled with a pair of errors won today's game for Austin from Waco in the fifth inning, when the Senators drove Hill, a recruit southpaw from El Paso, to the bench and scored the last run off Jack Ashton. Austin scored one in the second on a triple, a walk and a double steal, and Waco scored her only two runs in the fourth on a single, a hit batsman, a sacrifice and a fast squeeze play that went for an infield hit.

The final count was 6 to 2. The score: Waco—AB. R. H. O. A. E. CARSON'S RESIGNATION VOLUNTARY AND SURPRISE TO LOCAL DIRECTORS.

WILL REMAIN AS CATCHER

Says He Had No Fault to Find With Directors, but a Change Is Needed.

Tom Carson mailed his resignation as manager of the Waco baseball team to President W. R. Davidson of the baseball association, and his resignation was accepted last night by the directors. President Davidson and the directors are trying to get Ellis Hardy to manage the club.

Manager Carson's resignation was voluntary and came as a surprise to President Davidson, to whom he sent it last Monday. Neither Mr. Davidson nor the directors had any knowledge of Carson's intention.

They were well satisfied with his work and had no intention of making a change. All the directors seen yesterday said that Carson had done well with the club, and in spite of the many is willing to remain on the team as passed has maintained a creditable position in the league race. He has worked hard and conscientiously and has always had harmony among the players.

Carson's letter shows that he has no fault to find with the directors or with President Davidson. He gives as his reason for giving up the leadership of the team that a change would benefit the club. He states that he is willing to remain on the team as a catcher and the directors were unanimous in deciding to keep him.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear by the directors of the association upon Ellis Hardy to get him to finish the season as manager. Hardy managed the club during the seasons of 1911 and 1912 and finished in fourth position the first year and in third place the next year. Hardy is popular with the fans and although he maintains strict discipline among the players he never had friction on the team and the fans had the highest respect for his ability as a leader.

Hardy Has Not Accepted. Hardy has not yet accepted the position. He gave up the management of the club for reasons not connected with baseball and he said early in the week that he did not at that time see his way clear to get back into the game.

Without doubt he is the best man that could be found to take the team. He has kept in close touch with its work this season and most of the men have played under him before and know his methods. If he accepts the position he will start the team on a new upswing. He said Tuesday his methods and Carson's were much the same and he has every confidence in the team. He expressed himself as believing in Carson as a player and a manager and said that he had gotten good work from him.

"No two managers handle all plays alike," he said. "I would probably order a man to swing where another man would order a bunt at certain times, but as for making any radical changes in the club or the style of play it is now using, I cannot say that I would make any, if I should take charge."

Hardy Would Help Club. With Hardy managing the club and Carson catching, without the care of a manager as a handicap on his work, the Navigators would have a promising chance to land the pennant. Carson is the best catcher in the league when he is doing nothing but receiving. His work behind the bat, combined with his duties as director of the team have been a heavy load, but he has always delivered in fine shape.

In his letter to President Davidson, asking the association to accept his resignation, Carson said in part: "No doubt you will be surprised to receive this letter, including my resignation, but I think it best after a careful study. I have tried hard to give you and the directors a winning club and to keep up in the race, but after being with the club for three months I feel that I am not exactly the man for this responsible place, so kindly accept my resignation upon my return from this trip. Until we return I will continue to give my best efforts to keep the club going as it should."

"I have no ill feeling toward you or toward any of the directors or stockholders, as I feel they have all treated me fine and no matter who takes the club I want to play for him and will do all I can to help to land the rag."

Second Baseman Dodd with the Columbus American Association team, will likely be purchased by Waco. Dodd got his start in professional baseball with the Navigators, and he is now with the Columbus team. The price has been agreed upon, but the Waco management wants Dodd on a ten days' trial and Columbus has not agreed to this. However, an agreement likely will be reached today and in all probability Dodd will be added to the Waco string. He is a Texas boy.

Reports from Columbus say that Dodd is hitting .340 and Waco needs batters. With two hard hitters out of the games on the present trip on account of illness, the club has so far won but two games while away. Both Rennard and Ducey will be in condition, however, for the games here, and with Dodd and Helm on the club the Waco aggregation will look better than at any time this year.

St. Louis 6, Boston 4. Boston, July 11.—Tyler, the Boston pitcher, had one bad inning today and St. Louis won 6 to 4. In the sixth inning Miller Huggins, manager for the St. Louis team, was knocked out when hit on the head by a ball thrown by Tyler. He quickly recovered, but left the game. A doctor advised rest, but Huggins declared he would go to Philadelphia with his team tonight.

St. Louis 5, Brooklyn 3. Brooklyn, July 11.—Cincinnati, winning today 5 to 3, took all four games of the series with Brooklyn. Benton pitched shutout ball up to the eighth inning. In the fourth Yingling was replaced by Stack.

Navigators to Play the Dallas Giants at Katy Park Sunday. After a somewhat disastrous trip the Navigators return tomorrow for three games with the Dallas Giants. The Navigators likely will appear in full force in Sunday's game, but they were far from in full force while abroad. Rennard and Ducey were both out of the game and there was a shortage of few days and the negotiations for the annexing of Dodd are progressing favorably.

Just who will manage the club is not known, but the Navigators will be in better shape than any time since leaving. The game will start at 4 o'clock tomorrow.

Roberts Offers to Sell Vic Miller to the Waco Skippers. President Donk Roberts of the Houston baseball club yesterday offered Vic Miller for sale to Waco. Miller has been in Waco for several days but has not been released by the Buffaloes. He has not been notified that he has been suspended and does not know exactly what the Houston management intends doing with him.

Roberts told Miller yesterday over the phone that he had an offer from a team in the Virginia State league for him. With Helm coming back to Waco, the club will have five pitchers and if Dodd is signed from Columbus, which seems likely, the team will have all the players that the league allows.

Miller has not been at his best for the Houston club, but seems to be in good shape now. He has many admirers here and has pitched good ball for the Navigators. His rest undoubtedly has put him in better condition than he was in the first of the season and he is still in Texas league class.

HELM'S BACK TO WACO WACO PITCHER SENT ON TRIAL TO LOUISVILLE WILL RETURN.

A telegram was received by President W. R. Davidson of the Waco team from the Louisville team of the American Association, stating that Ross Helm had been released by that club and had been told to report to Waco immediately.

Helm went to Louisville two weeks ago for a try-out with the Louisville club. The terms by which the American Association team took Helm called for a ten-day try-out, and if he made good he would be bought. A sum was paid down to the Waco club.

Helm was going in good shape for the Navigators, and it was hoped by his admirers here that the breaks would be in his favor and that he would win a permanent berth in the fast league. But things did not go his way and he will come back to Waco.

BLACK LAND FARMS IN THE BISHOP COUNTY; RICH SOIL, LOW INTEREST; REASONABLE

TERMS—Bountiful cotton and feed crops are assured in the Bishop country by the splendid rains. Farmers who are cultivating their lands for the second and third years, are counting on a bale to the acre, if present prospects continue. The farmers who are building up this rich section are, with few exceptions, experienced Texas black land farmers, who have come from Central and North Texas, to take part in development of this territory and reap good profits from their industry.

Here they have bought land at reasonable prices, as others are doing, with SIX PER CENT INTEREST on their deferred payments, and the land has been paid for by many farmers ready for cultivation. Another feature: On sales made at this time, after the first cash payment is made, no other payment is to be made until November 1, 1915. After that date payments are made annually and run until November 1, 1921.

All notes are made payable "ON OR BEFORE," so that the purchaser can take them up in whole or in part, as he may be able or inclined.

It is no exaggeration or misrepresentation to say that the amount now being paid as rent by many farmers will practically take care of deferred payments on Bishop land, after the first payment is made.

The city of Bishop, only three years old, has a population approximating 2,000; it is the center of this rich black land farming section, which has been christened "THE BISHOP COUNTRY," and already has magnificent schools, a complete modern sewerage system, graded streets, cement sidewalks, a splendid hotel and more than 200 miles of good roads leading along all sections, making the city easily accessible to the thrifty farmers who live along the roads. Bishop has an abundant and pure artesian water supply, good churches and all the advantages, even more, than are possessed by many cities of 10,000 population.

Full and reliable information about both country and city can be had by writing or call in person.
F. Z. BISHOP, Bishop, Texas.

RULING IS EASIER BECAUSE OF BOLL WEEVIL AND HIGHER TEMPERATURES.

Scattering Southern Selling of New Crop—Picking Begins in South Texas Next Week.

New York, July 11.—Favorable private crop reports from several sources, including claims that high temperatures in the southwest were likely to result in a full August movement, and restrict the spread of the boll weevil, appeared responsible for the easier ruling of the cotton market during today's trading.

Owing to the holidays there were no cables from Liverpool and Gulf business remained quiet, but the circulation of a few July notices caused some near month liquidation and there was some scattered southern selling of new crop deliveries which was supposed to be partly in the way of hedging prospective yields.

After opening 3 points higher to 3 points lower, the market gradually weakened under realizing and offerings became heavier following reports that a prominent Memphis authority made the condition of the crop 82.5 per cent compared with 81.3 toward the end of June.

Near month led the decline, selling about 12 points net lower, and the new crop showed a net loss of from 8 to 10 points during the middle of the day. Covering checked the decline in the late trading, with the close steady at a loss of from 3 to 10 points for the day.

Southwestern advices that picking will begin in South Texas by the end of next week. Leading trading interests were credited with buying August and October on the decline, and a further reduction in the local stock of certified cotton probably restricted more general selling on favorable crop advices and a pessimistic view of the trade outlook.

New Orleans. New Orleans, July 11.—The cotton market was steady at a small decline today, offerings from the short side showing some increase as the result of fairly good rains in the cotton region and the promise of more to come.

The market was dull, partly because of the triple holidays in the Liverpool market and partly because of continued uncertainty over the effort to pass anti-future legislation.

There was less interest in the old crop months than ever and they displayed no activity at any time. The opening was quiet, unchanged to 1 point down, compared with the last prices of yesterday.

In the early trading offerings were slender and easily absorbed, and prices were 2 points over yesterday's final figures. This was the high of the day. The second half of the new crop was reported in Texas, and this, together with the detailed weather reports, showing much rain in sections of the belt which have been complaining of the lack of moisture, caused short selling to increase. Around the middle of the morning the trading months were 4 to 5 points under the last quotations of yesterday. The decline was not widened because scalping shorts took their profit and their offerings steadied the market. The close was at a net loss of 2 to 5 points.

Hester's Weekly Statement. New Orleans, July 11.—Secretary Hester's weekly New Orleans Cotton Exchange statement, issued before the close of business today, shows an increase in the movement into sight compared with the seven days ending this date last year in round figures, 4000, an increase over the same days year before last of 14,000 and an increase over the same time in 1910 of 6000.

For the eleven days of July the totals show an increase over last year of 1000, an increase over the same period year before last of 23,000 and an increase over the same time in 1910 of 20,000.

For the 314 days of the season that have elapsed the aggregate is behind the 314 days of last year 2,185,000, ahead of the same days year before last 1,763,000 and ahead of 1910 by 3,265,000.

The amount brought into sight during the past week has been 29,122 bales, against 25,293 for the seven days ending this date last year, 15,178 year before last and 23,015 same time in 1910; and, for the eleven days of July it has been 46,847, against 45,869 last year, 23,956 year before last and 26,840 same time in 1910.

The movement since September 1 shows receipts at all United States ports 9,737,660 against 11,888,521 last year, 8,535,853 year before last and 7,208,528 same time in 1910. Overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 968,371 against 1,247,924 last year, 926,714 year before last and 808,739 same time in 1910; interior stocks in excess of 1000 bales at the close of the commercial year 91,150 against 49,406 last year, 46,444 year before last and 28,102 same time in 1910; southern mills takings 2,637,000 against 2,423,143 last year, 2,168,016 year before last and 2,123,515 same time in 1910. This makes the total movement for the 314 days of the season from September 1 to date 13,434,190 against 15,618,994 last year, 11,671,227 year before last and 10,168,884 same time in 1910.

Foreign exports for the week have been 22,179 against 30,110 last year, making the total thus far for the season 8,374,190 against 10,292,000 last year, a decrease of 1,918,722.

Northern mills takings and Canada during the past seven days show a decrease of 5445 as compared with the corresponding period last year, and their total takings since September 1 have decreased 384,454. The total takings of American mills, north, south and Canada, thus far for the season have been 2,637,000 against 2,423,143 last year. These include 2,326,111 by northern spinners against 2,710,565.

Stocks at the seaboard and the 29 leading southern interior centers have decreased during the week 38,309 bales, against a decrease during the corresponding period last year of 45,239, and are now 45,134 smaller than at this date in 1912.

Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop, the supply to date of 1913 is against 15,905,968 for the same period last year.

WORK ON MARY STREET RESUMED

WILL PAVE EIGHTEENTH NEXT. WANT STREET LOWERED. WALKS WANTED.

Construction work on the Mary street storm sewer has been resumed. The work was stopped several days because of a misunderstanding. Commissioner Foster of the street department reported to the city commission yesterday morning that the work had begun again and that he believed all difficulties delaying the work had been removed.

The sewer is one of the largest in the city, and it is important as a drainage duct for the storm water in the business district.

Want Eighteenth Paved.

A delegation of residents of Eighteenth street appeared before the commission with the request that that street be the next paved. The commission informed them that its intention was to begin work on that street next, but that it would be necessary to secure a guarantee from some of the property owners as a portion of the property on the street was not assessed at a sufficient rate to fix the pavement tax. Another reason for delaying work on the street is to permit the installation of a storm sewer, which will care for the drainage on the street. This matter has given the commission and the engineering department considerable trouble as much rain causes a washout on Eighteenth street.

A delegation of Third street property owners appeared before the commission requesting that walks be constructed on that street from the square to Washington street. Commissioner Foster and City Engineer Byars will take the matter up with the owners.

The street department was requested by a letter to have the street at Nineteenth and Jackson cut down, as it is higher than the walk. The matter was referred to the street commissioner.

MAN IDENTIFIED AS HARRY SMITH

LOCOMOTIVE'S VICTIM WAS CARPENTER OUT OF WORK—HAD FAMILY AT CHATTANOOGA.

CARRIED ACCIDENT INSURANCE

Policy Had Double Money Clause for Death on Railroad—Wait for Relatives.

Mrs. Mina Freeman, residing at 1823 Mary street, yesterday threw light on the mystery which shrouded the identity of the man struck and killed at an early hour Wednesday morning by a Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train two miles south of town. Mrs. Freeman appeared before Justice J. J. Padgett, who is conducting the inquest, after she had viewed the body at the Fall undertaking establishment, and identified the dead man as Harry Smith, a carpenter.

The man had already been practically identified by the laundry marks on his clothing, but nothing further was known of him. Mrs. Freeman said he had boarded with her at her residence up to July 7, when she sold out; that he had worked for the Katy some months ago and had recently been employed at the filtration plant being constructed by the city. She said she had known Smith five months and saw him last the evening before he was killed, but did not talk with him at that time.

According to her testimony Smith had been ill for some time. He had told her he was going out to get work, if he had to walk out of the city. She said he at one time worked on the railroad at just about the point where he was killed.

Mrs. Freeman also exhibited an insurance policy which she said Smith had taken out in her favor with the American Life, Health and Accident Co. The policy carried health and accident insurance for $500, and provided in case Smith was killed on a railroad his beneficiary should receive twice the amount. She said he took the policy out in her favor, he said, because he was often sick and had no one else to care for him, and that she had always taken care of him when he was ill.

It is understood the man had a wife and two children in Chattanooga, Tenn. The remains are being held in an attempt to locate his relatives.

Messenger Boys and Newsies Guests at Watermelon Feast

Twenty-five members of the "Newsies" and Messenger Boys' club were guests of C. H. Cox last night at a melon feast at the Cotton Palace park. Twelve big melons, home-grown products, had been reserved by Mr. Cox for the occasion, and the kids lost no time in delving into them.

Under the new rule adopted by the club, only those boys who had tickets were admitted to the feed. Tickets were issued only to those who had attended the regular meetings of the club, since the last "feed night" a month ago.

The boys had a great time. In their estimation, Mr. Cox is a "good fellow," and to the "boys of the street" this means a good deal more than is the average conception.

COP APPOINTED FOR EDGEFIELD

COMMISSION APPROVES PETITIONS, BILLS AND BONDS AT MORNING SESSION.

In order to provide better police protection for Edgefield park, the city commission yesterday morning appointed a special policeman to have charge of that place. The position is not assessed at a sufficient rate to fix the pavement tax. Another reason for delaying work on the street is to permit the installation of a storm sewer, which will care for the drainage on the street. This matter has given the commission and the engineering department considerable trouble as much rain causes a washout on Eighteenth street.

Petitions and Routine. The Hamilton-Turner Grocery Co. is to construct a loading wharf 10 feet wide by 165 feet long, facing the Missouri, Kansas and Texas tracks at Third and Jackson streets. Permission to construct the wharf was granted by the city commission yesterday.

Petition from the Sturgis estate to build an addition to building on South Fourth street, between Austin and Franklin, approved.

Petition of Industrial Cotton Oil Co. to build addition to its plant, approved.

Bonds of J. H. Harper, F. W. Oheider and M. A. Harlock for maintenance of sidewalk, approved.

Bill of N. B. Gregory for work on Mary street sewer, $6,387.27, ordered paid.

Estimate of Flannigan Bros. & Pritchett for macadamizing Ethel avenue from North Nineteenth to North Twenty-fifth street, at $2,660.35, ordered paid, as was the bill of the same firm for macadamizing North Twenty-sixth street from Bosque to Ethel, amounting to $1,857.25.

Edgar Witt was allowed $532.54 as commission on tax collections.

W. E. Jackson was paid $1,036.50 for pavement of Parrott avenue.

TEACHERS NEED RED BLOOD AND ACTION

Musselman Contends Montessori System Is Efficient. Finishing Schools Really "Finishers"—Girls Should Be Taught Home Making.

To teach people self-dependence and self-sufficiency rather than servilism, to relate ideas to life, to eliminate the educated parasite, and to put red blood into people's veins, and sure-enough action into their lives are the prime objects of the educational system that has come to be known as the Montessori method, explained to an interested audience at Baylor University last night by Dr. H. T. Musselman, editor of the Texas School Magazine.

Dr. Montessori—the first female physician in Rome—came into the discovery of her system through her service in the clinic of a leading hospital in Rome, where she paid special attention to the feeble minded. For the past seven years she has been giving herself to the study of educational methods and her system is practically the opposite of that employed in the kindergartens of today, which are for the most part founded upon the theories of Froebel and others of that school.

Dr. Musselman said: "As I have emphasized in some of my talks to you before, a teacher in order to impress the world today must not be pale and weak, the sentimental product of the cloister, but must have the red blood of humanity coursing through his veins; for it is the man of action who gets a hearing today. And to be successful in their task they must be able to teach their pupils that self-control and self-dependence are the chief end of education and not servilism. We have a great habit in this country of sending girls off to the so-called 'finishing schools' where they are taught how to drop their handkerchiefs gracefully, and to so move among people that they will never do anything for themselves that they can get someone else to do for them. And when these girls get back home they are usually finished, too. This is the reason why so many women are content to live upon the dead level of mediocrity—they are made to believe at these schools that there is nothing else beyond for which they must strive.

Producing Dependent Race. "Montessori contends that by the time a child is 3 years old, it should be self-dependent to a large degree and be able to do things for itself. In the kindergartens she conducts she has little tots only 4 and 5 years old serving their lunches at school instead of bringing their individual baskets with them. With all of our boasted civilization we have produced a race that is very dependent. We are sending out from our school into the hard work of the world educated parasites who are not able to meet the stern conflicts of everyday life. Some of them exist upon what others have produced but if all the laws now operating in the world were so changed as to put every man upon his merits many of those whom we see enjoying luxury would go to the poorhouse.

"I never like to see a woman leaning over a washtub, washing dirty clothes and getting herself all mussed up—but one of the most gratifying things I have ever seen was the instructor in laundering at a college of industrial arts taking the girls of the college through a course in laundering, and they did this same work in such a manner that they did not even soil their aprons.

"As there was as much self-respect beaming out of those girls' eyes as if they were playing on the piano, I like the women who can make good from the cellar to the parlor, and one never knows when in life she may be called upon for any of these things. This is the kind of woman contemplated by the Montessori system.

"Pedagogy of Froebel and others is only semi-scientific and is based upon the preconceived philosophy of the men who follow that school. But Montessori, in order to get a truly scientific system, she has set up a laboratory of the children themselves, studied not what they ought to do but what they really did and even after a system had been thus formulated, she did not depend upon an individual child, but held that the right results could be obtained only when the spiritual self of the teacher goes out to the child.

"The personal touch is the supreme thing in the method of her teaching." The development of individuality and personality were among the other by Dr. Musselman. He said that Switzerland had adopted the Montessori method as the basis for the kindergarten work of that country.

Dr. Musselman will be in the city until noon today, when he will leave by train to attend the rural education week at the University of Texas beginning Monday.

LEFTWICH IS ELECTION JUDGE

But One Change in List—Appointments for County Precincts Probable.

J. A. Leftwich has been appointed election judge to serve in Precinct 4, Ward 4, of the city of Waco in county and state elections, vice T. C. Smith, deceased. This change is possibly the only one that will be made in the election officials in Waco before the general election Saturday, at which time several proposed amendments to the state constitution will be voted upon.

Election officials are appointed for a term of two years. There will probably be several changes in the country precincts, the law giving other election officials authority to fill any vacancy that might exist in their precinct.

County Clerk J. W. Baker was busy yesterday preparing the ballots and necessary papers and boxes to be sent to the forty-eight voting precincts in the county. The boxes were dispatched to their various destinations last night.

Engine Strikes a Mexican; May Die

John L. Mauk of West, TEXAS, was fined $100 yesterday morning in the police court on a charge of violating the traffic ordinance. He entered a plea of not guilty.

According to the police, Mauk drove through Waco Thursday evening, running down a horse and buggy at Eighth and Austin streets belonging to a negro.

Special railroad trains, devoted to their exclusive service, enable the cut flower growers of southern France to ship their productions in perfect condition, as far as St. Petersburg.

Joseph Campos, a Mexican, employed by the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad Co., was struck by a switch engine of the company in the west yards at noon yesterday and seriously injured. The man was brought to Waco at 1:30 o'clock and conveyed to Providence sanitarium. It was found necessary to amputate one of his legs. Last night he was reported to be in a serious condition.

NOTICE

About July fifteenth we will remove our Retail Store and Offices to the Home building on Austin, near Sixth street. Our factory will remain in its present location. No room, 50x10 feet, now occupied by our store and offices will be for rent about July fifteenth. We will rent it as a whole or will cut it into four stores 20x40 feet.
